The Village of Mount Prospect's Aging in Community Initiative is pleased to announce the return of the free informational event, "Aging in Mount Prospect: What Families Need to Know." This event is designed to connect older adults and their loved ones with vital local resources as they navigate the aging journey.

"Aging in Mount Prospect" will offer attendees valuable insights through an informative presentation followed by a resource fair featuring various community partners. Participants will have the opportunity to learn about available services, ask questions, and gather essential information to support successful aging in the Mount Prospect community.

The Village is offering two identical sessions to accommodate attendees' differing schedules – it is not necessary to attend both. Sessions will be held in the third floor Board Room at Village Hall, 50 S. Emerson St., on the following dates: Wednesday, June 11 from 1 - 3 pm and Thursday, July 17 from 6 - 8 pm.

This is a free event for older adults and their family members and/or caretakers. Registration is required – please call the Mount Prospect Human Services Department at 847-870-5680 to reserve a spot.

"We understand that navigating the aging journey can present many challenges for both older adults and their loved ones," said Nicole Cooper-Ffrench, the Village of Mount Prospect's Public Health Nurse. "This event is a key part of our Aging in Community Initiative, providing an opportunity to connect residents with the resources and support they need right here in Mount Prospect."
