The Village of Mount Prospect has reviewed the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's ("IEPA") recent complaint against Prestige. The IEPA claims Prestige's operation of its Mount Prospect facility violates odor and noise regulations contained in Illinois statute and the Illinois administrative code. The Village of Mount Prospect's case has similarities to the IEPA's case, but is different. Notably, the Village's case against Prestige involves claims of violations of the Village Code regulating odors and permitted uses under the zoning code. We will continue to monitor the IEPA's case against Prestige and, of course, continue to litigate the Village's current action against Prestige.
