The Mount Prospect Police Department is pleased to announce the graduation of Commander Alison Teevan from the School of Police Staff and Command (SPSC) at Northwestern University Center for Public Safety. Commander Teevan successfully completed the ten (10) week Staff and Command Program held in Glendale Heights, Illinois between February 9 – June 12, 2026. This program, which was implemented by the Center for Public Safety in 1983, has graduated over 21,000 students both nationally and internationally. Commander Teevan was a student in SPSC Class #637, which accommodated 31 students for the ten-week period.

The School of Police Staff and Command is the most academically rigorous program available for experienced mid- and upper-level supervisory personnel. Through an innovative combination of academic principles blended with practical applications, the intensive curriculum focuses on areas critical to successful senior law enforcement leadership and management. In addition to lectures, the curriculum is designed for practical application of academic principles plus course activities that encourage class members to learn from one another's experiences.

The Mount Prospect Police Department anticipates a variety of benefits from Commander Teevan's attendance at this program. Many of the program's graduates go on to achieve a variety of leadership positions within their respective agencies.
